Obon お盆

With the month of July and summer in full swing we find time to relax and enjoy time off from work and/or school. Summer is also a time for families to come together to vacation together. It is a time for family reunions. Whenever we are with family we cannot help but to be reminded of our past family members who cannot be with us this summer.

No matter how much time has gone by after the passing of a loved one, there is still emptiness in our lives that can never be filled. We still want to do something for our loved ones, but we cannot, we feel helpless. There are many things we wish we could say to them, but we cannot, and we feel helpless. And although we like to tell ourselves that we have no regrets, there are still things we wish we could have done, or there are things we wish we could have said. We feel helpless, and this is very natural for us.

Now that we have experienced the loss of a loved one, we must find other ways to express our love and concern, we must find other ways to express our gratitude for all we have received. How can we do this? On such matters again we are very helpless.

I recall one summer when it was a beautiful day, and children were outside playing on the temple grounds. All the children were having a great time, including our son. When the day ended for us and we had to leave he was sad and wanted to stay and continue playing. He grumbled and cried, wanting to stay and play with the other children. I remember watching him cry and truly feeling helpless. What can I do?

The next day he woke up and he was fine. I mentioned this to my wife, and she said, "He is fine, you are the one that is still worried, concerned and wigged out." I realized that she was right, he was fine, it was me who felt helpless. I needed to do something about my anxiety.

The story of Obon is the story of a mother and her son. The mother had died, and the son Mogallana felt great anxiety over the passing of his mother. He worried about where she was and what had happened to her after she died. Mogallana consulted with the Buddha who told him that there is nothing you can do in your power to help your mother. Hold a memorial for her, make offerings in her memory and hold a feast in her memory.

By holding the memorial Mogallana was reminded of her ongoing influence on his life. He honored her and expressed his gratitude to her with the offerings and a feast. Shakyamuni wisely counseled Mogallana saying to him that your mother did all she could for you, and you should be grateful, but NOW is an opportunity to express and do all that we were not able to do before. NOW is an opportunity to say and do all those things we wish we could.

After performing a memorial, making offerings and holding a feast in memory of his mother, Mogallana no longer felt anxiety and felt freedom that made him dance for joy.

As I was wisely counseled by my wife, I came to the realization that our son was okay. In a similar way, our loved ones are okay, we are the ones filled with anxiety. What can we do?

We can honor our family members. We have this time for our family members, and we have lanterns lit as reminder a of the light that shines from the Boundless Life of our loved ones. That light is a reminder of what we have received and how their lives continue to take effect upon us.

Through the calling of Amida Buddha's name "Namoamidabutsu", we can express all those thoughts, all those words, all those actions and deeds we wish to bestow upon them.

Obon is a time when we are reminded of what we have received and continue to receive from our family members who have returned to the Pure Land. It is a time to express all that we wish to say, all that we wish to do. Therefore, it is a time of great joy and an opportunity to celebrate our lives that are deeply connected to our past.

Namoamidabutsu,

Rev. Hosei Shinseki

Hanayama Family Visit

As mentioned previously, my wife Alice, granddaughter Lily, and myself visited Keiko, Shoren, and Elen Hanayama on May 31st in Tokyo. We had a lovely time catching up on their busy lives since the last time I visited them two years ago.

Each one of the Hanayama family members seem to be healthy and happy with their lives in Tokyo. It is very apparent that Keiko is strongly connected with Shoren and Elen's lives and livelihood.

Keiko is not working now but is planning to return in the near future. Shoren is finishing up his last year of college at Musashima University with a degree in international business. After his graduation in March of 2026, Shoren who will be 21 in July, plans to be either working for a firm or continuing studying for an advance degree. Elen will be finishing up high school in March of 2026. Being a very talented artist, Elen plans to enroll at Tokyo Kasei University studying digital art design.

Both Shoren and Elen are open to the possibilities of either studying or working in the US. It is a far-reaching goal that each of them is pondering.

The family misses the Watsonville Temple members. They are very thankful for the gifts and cards and most of all, for the fond memories of their time spent in Watsonville.

Gassho,

Ken Tanimoto

2025 Obon Lanterns Honoring our Ancestors

White Obon lanterns light up the hall honoring family members from the past. The legend of Obon dates to the time of the Buddha and it was believed that the souls of our ancestors would return during the time of Obon. The small Obon lanterns called Obon Chochin 盆提灯 were lit to temporarily welcome back the spirits of our deceased ancestors. Offerings were made in memory of the deceased ancestors to the temple. In our Jodoshinshu tradition, the lights of the lantern remind us of the continuing influence of our family members as we remember them today.

The Watsonville Buddhist Temple 2025 Obon Festival will be held on July 20th (Sunday). Each year we offer families the opportunity to honor family members who have returned to the Pure Land with a memorial Obon lantern. Your family member's name will be attached to a lantern and displayed at the Obon Festival for years to come. Please complete the form below and a lantern will be created for your family member(s).

A $50 donation or more to the Watsonville Buddhist Temple will be accepted for each lantern in memory of your family member .

Harvest Magic

*In pursuit of the American Dream,
In the Land of the Free~and Democracy,
They bravely sailed the awesome sea,
To our beautiful Pajaro Valley.*

*They tilled the soil from dawn to dusk,
And from this rich and fertile ground,
Seeds would sprout~ and hopefully,
A wealth of fruit would soon abound.*

*Delicious apples~red~yellow and green.
Lettuce and tomatoes~row after row.
A variety of berries~peaches and cream.
Farmers can make 'most anything grow.*

*But unforeseen were the elements,
Of drought~ disease~recession and rain,
When their only goal was to survive,
To succeed on this terrain.*

*With perseverance~sweat and tears,
They planted the seeds of determination,
And held it tight in their embrace,
For the future generation.*

*The Harvest Magic will always live on,
The fruits of their labor we consume every day.
"Thank You" to pioneers~now long gone.
The Brave Immigrants who did it their way.*
